

BEING HUNTED

Introduction: "During these days of exile—possibly a period of ten years—David is _____ like a wild animal. He is a nomad, a vagabond" (McGee).

I. _____ Trials (1 Sam. 19)

- A. Saul would not be satisfied until David was _____.
- B. Saul was _____ and a double minded man (Jas. 1:8).
- C. Jealousy will _____ away at a person each time another succeeds.
- D. The things which the enemy sends to be a snare could be the very thing which God uses to _____ us.
- E. The best advice that we need in trials is _____ advice.
- F. Go to the man of God for godly _____ (Pr. 11:4; 24:6).
- G. God will _____ you in the trials you are facing.
- H. Trials are to _____ your faith (1 Pe. 1:7).

II. _____ Friends (1 Sam. 20)

- A. There are those you cannot make _____ with no matter how much you try (Ro. 12:18).
- B. All of us would do well if we daily said, "there is but a _____ between me and death."
- C. True friendship is one that is based on _____.
- D. Jonathan knew things would happen just as God _____.
- E. Anger towards anyone will destroy all other _____.
- F. "Let not the sun go _____ upon your wrath" (Eph. 4:26).
- G. "Jonathan was giving up the kingdom for the _____ of a friend" (MacDonald).
- H. Saying goodbye to friends causes great _____.
- I. "David was leaving all his _____, even those of God's sanctuary, and therefore his grief exceeded Jonathan's" (Henry).
- J. Jonathan and David had the _____ on their side (Ro. 8:31).

Conclusion: "Living in caves in the wilderness, he endures many hardships and privations. However, he is being tested and trained in God's school. He becomes Israel's greatest king—in fact, the world's greatest king—and a man after God's own heart. Many of the wonderful Psalms of David are written during this rough and rugged period" (McGee).