Theme

Lovely in Silhouette

"That the world may know that I love the Father."

John 14:31

Contrast is the difference in luminance that makes an object distinguishable. As a silhouette is in contrast to its surroundings so should the life of a Christian in this world. It's time to shine a bright light in our hearts to see if there are any dark areas of self-control that must be distinguished in order for us to have a life that would be undeniably Christian.

What does the world see when they look at your life? Are you in enough contrast to be noticeably different from them? Do you look like them, talk like them, go where they go, do what they do? Our society teaches us to let it all hang out, do your own thing, look out for #1, and be free of all restraints. But the Bible teaches us to die to self and become Christ like.

Self-control is a very high form of worship because it is living out his commandments - it's a "doing" act of character in order that the Spirit will be seen in us. It is essential that we find the balance of living a disciplined life so "that the world may know that I love the Father."
