Dear Church,
 I wanted you to know that it was a pleasure to with you for your Sword meeting. The services were an encouragement to me and to be able to fellowship with you was priceless. Thank you so much for your kindness and hospitality.
 In His Service, Fred Daniel, III,
 Missionary to Mexico

Dear Church,
 Thank you so much for your kindness to us this week. You all have been a blessing to us in so many ways. Thank you to all the ladies who prepared the fellowship times. It was such an encouragement to be here where you all know about Kazakhstan and are praying for that country. I know God will greatly bless you for your labor of love.
 We cannot express thanks enough for all you did for us.
 The Phillips' Deut. 31:8; I Cor. 15:57

Dear Pastor Leatherman,
 What a wonderful time Cherith and I had at the Sword of the Lord conference. Thank you for your faithfulness in putting in on each year. The preaching, fellowship, and food was all wonderful. Thank you for allowing us to set up a table and to meet many people. I really enjoyed the opportunity to get to know you and your heart for ministry. We are excited about your church's involvement in _____.
 May the Lord bless you as you faithfully serve Him.
 Because He Lives, Jason Ottosen

HAVING A FAMILY ALTAR

HAVE A PURPOSE. Over the years we focused on primarily two areas in our family devotions. One was to explain the matter of salvation to our children. They needed to understand the need for it, what Christ did for us on the cross, and the way to be saved. When our children were young and before they were saved, we often focused our daily devotions on this crucial topic. The other major matter we focused on was Christian and godly character. Because the practice of righteousness is at the heart of Christian character, all throughout their formative years, we repeatedly discussed the principle of righteousness, the practice thereof, and verses which illustrated these.

HAVE A PLAN. One route to success for a family devotion time is having a simple operational plan which does not require a great deal of preparation. One method we have used over the years, particularly in teaching godliness and righteousness, is to take one chapter of Proverbs a day according to the days of the month. For example, if the day of the month is the 29th, I would go to Proverbs 29. There I would seek out a verse or two which stood out and go over it very briefly. Once we had gone through Proverbs, we might then go to Psalms and look for an appropriate verse in a three chapter sequence. For example, if the day of the month was the 15th, I might peruse Psalm 45-47 for a verse to dwell upon. (There are 150 Psalms and seeking a good verse over three chapters was simple and always worked.) Of course, we might go elsewhere to deal with specific problems. Having a well-marked Bible wherein verses which have blessed us or otherwise stood out were underlined made it very easy to conduct family devotions this way. That underlining was done during personal Bible reading times. We then had a season of prayer wherein various members of the family took turns praying.

KEEP IT SIMPLE. One of the great hindrances to family devotions is that most people do not have a long-term method of sustaining a day-after-day and year-after-year devotional plan. The plan mentioned above is simple and eminently Scriptural. It is virtually inexhaustible. Most parents are very busy with the affairs of life and don't have time to prepare extensive family devotions. Pre-planned devotional guides cost money and usually run out after a month or two. However you do it, have a simple plan of teaching your children the things of God. God has given that charge to the parents in general and to the father in particular (Sorenson, Training Your Children to Turn Out Right).

DELIVERANCE FROM "ME"

What are the terms of discipleship?

Only one with a perfect knowledge of mankind could have dared to make them. Only the Lord of men could have risked the effect of such rigorous demands: Let him deny himself. We hear these words and shake our heads in astonishment. Can we have heard aright? Can the Lord lay down such severe rules at the door of the Kingdom? He can and He does. If He is to save the man, He must save him from himself. It is the himself which has enslaved and corrupted the man. Deliverance comes only by denial of that self. No man in his own strength can shed the chains with which self has bound him, but in the next breath the Lord reveals the source of the power which is to set the soul free: Let him take up his cross. The cross has gathered in the course of the years much of beauty and symbolism, but the cross of which Jesus spoke had nothing of beauty in it. It was an instrument of death. Slaying men was its only function. Men did not wear that cross; but that cross wore men. It stood naked until a man was pinned on it, a living man fastened like some grotesque stickpin on its breast to writhe and groan till death stilled and silenced him. That is the cross. Nothing less. And when it is robbed of its tears and blood and pain it is the cross no longer. Let him take . . . his cross, said Jesus, and in death he will know deliverance from himself. -A.W. Tozer (1897-1963)
