Welcome To God's House

We hear a lot about hope from politicians, numerous books, tapes, and other media. But what is offered in these messages doesn't seem to last. The whole world yearns for a steadfast hope. The inner cry of multitudes is, "Somebody, somewhere, please, give me some hope, something that will last!"

Hope is not a feeling; and by contrast from the world, we— as God's people— have "hope set before us: which hope we have as an anchor of the soul both sure and steadfast" (Hebrews 6:18, 19). As the Word speaks about Israel in the Book of Deuteronomy, we find conditions in the wilderness had become very scary for the people. God had allowed them to experience pangs of hunger and thirst. The Lord humbled His children so that He could be trusted and that they could live on His promises.

God uses His people to dispense hope. When I personally need some measure of hope, I want to talk with someone who has endured tribulation, pain or loss, such as the lady I met at a concert who had lost three grandchildren in an automobile accident. Despite her almost unbearable loss, she said, "God is good. He sees me through."

If God created all things with His word and His breath, will He not, in His time, speak hope to you and me in our times of trial? He knows just how to bring such hope— real and lasting, sure and steadfast. The world hopes for the best, but Jesus offers the best hope— our Blessed Hope (Titus 2:13).

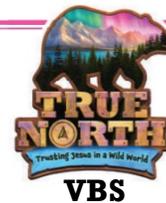

Connie Hopper (From Singing News/June 2025)

Take from a man his wealth, and you hinder him; take from him his purpose and you slow him down. But take from a man his hope, and you stop him. He can go on without wealth, and even without purpose for a while. But he will not go on without hope.

—C. Neill Strait (1934-2003)
